WILL BE OPEN GAMBLING

THE SPORTS ARE PREPARING TO TAKE THE TOWN THIS WEEK.

While Carnival Committee Is Not Allowed to Install Games of Chance, Sambling Flourishes.

The interest of the public in the matter of gambling during the carnival, and extending to the time of the November election, seems to have assumed as large proportions as the interest in the carnival itself. This interest seems to have been aroused by the statements of gamblers that "everything goes" during the carnival and the few weeks before the election; the boldness with which rooms are being rented and fitted up for gaming purposes; and the indifference with which the gamelaw prohibiting the games which are and will be conducted. There seems to be no fear of police molestation, and in fact one been fixed he would not say, but in the course of the conversation it was suggested prohibition of law and the protests made for the effect it will have on the November

Saturday in one of the down-town saleons gambling apparatus was seen standing in the bar-room in full view of the passing citizens. Though it is not probable that games will be run in the barrooms proper they will be in progress in rooms adjacent and rooms above in nearly every saloon in the business district of the city one of the ro-called "sports," that a number of gamblers who have been out of the city for many months, chiefly because it was politic for them to stay away, have returned and will be seen about the tables during the next few weeks.

Patrolmen running in the downtown dis-tricts when asked about their orders relative to the suppression of gambling said their orders were to arrest participants in all games when found. Out of twelve innot one was found who would exlain why they found no games in progress so many places are being openly ncted, and they would not tell of other orders which might prohibit them from gong into places where games might be found or were known to be in operation. The answer of each was that they had een no gambling.

There are other peculiar features in the matter of games of chance during Carnival week. The Festivities Society has received everal hundred letters asking for priviges for "fish ponds" and other so-called mocent amusements of like nature, and uch as are seen at nearly every church estival, to be placed in the booths of the Magic Circle. Though it was early decided by the management of the Carnival that the attractions under its control should be absolutely clean and unobjectionable, several of the schemes of this kind were looked upon with favor, for the reason that they would afford amusement to the people who wished to patronize them, and would also be the means of increasing the revenues of the society. When the matter was presented to Superintendent Quigley, the representative of the society was told that such games would not be tolerated and would be suppressed.

After that time a member of the amuseent committee was offered $1,000, cash in hand, for the privilege of operating a game, giving eigars for prizes, with no blanks, far more fair than the games run in the rooms now in operation by the gamblers of the city. The action of the police and city authorities in allowing the "open" gam-bling, is said by members of the Festivities Society to reflect upon them, it being thought by most people that the society is back of the scheme by which the gamblers ington to Capitol avenue, where it will are allowed to operate.

The saloons are preparing for an enormous business and it is said by many that no attention to the provisions of the Nicholson law will be paid during the week of the carnival. Saloons which have for some time been closed at II o'clock are now being kept open until I and 2 o'clock in the morning and some of them all night. Some

Superintendent Quigley said last night that when the Carnival managers explained the nature of the games that men sough to install in the Magic Circle he said they were "skin" games and would not be per-mitted, as he did not want Carnival visifors fleeced. The superintendent said he

The Bostock Attractions Reach the City-Monument Lights Turned on for Awhile.

The Bostock shows, which are to form a arge part of the Fall Carnival this week, arrived late yesterday afternoon by rail from Peoria, Ill., and Louisville, and the work of putting them in place began at once. It is expected that the exhibitions will all be set up, ready for the public, this afternoon. They will certainly be in place to-morrow morning when the carnival really opens. These entertainments are so many and so varied in character as to make a detailed description of them a prac tical impossibility within the narrow limits of a newspaper account. Chiquita, the Cuban midget, attracts perhaps as much attention as any other single feature of the Bostock display. This little lady is claimed to be the uniest fullgrown human being in the world and when it is stated in addition that she is perfectly formed and by no means disagreeable in facial appearance it will be appreciated that she is quite reception to-morrow morning in the Grand Hotel, Wednesday morning at the home of Mrs. Albert Lieber and her social engagement for Thursday morning will consist of a state visit to Governor Mount in his pa -lors in the Statehouse.

The shows under the Bostock management which will be stationed in the Magic Circle will be free to holders of tickets of admission to the inclosure, except a small charge will be made for viewing the mid-

OTHER EXHIBITIONS. The other Bostock exhibitions will be found within easy reach of each other on courthouse square, or in the streets in that vicinity, opening into Washington street Some very remarkable collections of wild animals are in the display, including Wal lace, the "untamable lion," the group of jaguars with their lady trainer and the boxing kangaroos.

For the amusement of children, in addition to Chiquita, there has been provided the smallest carrousel or merry-go-round in the world, which on account of its diminutive proportions has been named "The Chiquita Merry-go-round."

Adults and juveniles alike will enjoy th Venetian gondolas, a wonderful mechanical device imported from England, which carries its own steam and electric plants. The first complete illumination of th Fairy or Magic Circle and the first of series of band concerts in its inclosure will take place to-night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, and will be repeated every night thereafter, terminating Friday night. The carnival proper begins to-morrow morning with the induction of Tecumseh, the venerable Indian chief, into the great city of the White Man. The band of 104 picked braves, who are to escort the old leader from Broad Ripple to-morrow morning held a final meeting yesterday afternoon and received their final instructions from Marshal Negley. They will assemble at Red Men's Hall on Washington street to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock sharp and immediately proceed to Broad Ripple by electric cars. Arrived at that place they will go to the island in White river on gambler said, "Oh, we're not worrying; which Tecumseh has been camped for sevthat's all been fixed." With whom it had eral nights and accompany the chief back to the clubhouse of the Ridiculous and Indianapolis Aquatic clubs, where a water that the privilege was allowed despite the | carnival will take place for the old Indian's delectation. About noon the start for the Carnival City will be made. When the corner of Illinois and New York streets shall have been reached the procession will go straight to the Capitol building, where the formal presentation to Tecumseh of the key of the city will be made by Mayor Taggart on the south steps of the edifice. Al Red Men in the city who are not included in the escort of the Indian chief are requested to don their warpaint and uniforms and report at the corner of Illinois and New York streets at 12:30 o'clock sharp to-morrow, in order to be ready to partici pate in the first parade of the day. When great preparations are being made for | the ceremony of delivering the key of the the week of gayety. It was learned from city has been completed, the official programme of the carnival will begin to be carried out.

PROGRAMME IN DETAIL. The programme in detail, including the character of the pageants, their mode of fermation, the places and times of moving and the lines of march, is as follows: south side of the Statehouse promptly at the conclusion of the ceremony of delivering the key of the city and the line of march will be over the principal thorough-fares of the business and residence heart

The civic and military parade will asemble to-morrow afternoon near the corner of Capitol avenue and Washington streets and will move at 2 o'clock promptly. The line of march will be on the south side of Washington street to East street, countermarching on the north side of Washington to Pennsylvania, north on Pennsy vania to Vermont, where it will disband. The floral pageant is the great event of Wednesday. This will consist of carriages, automobiles and other forms of fashionable vehicles, gorgeously decked with flowers of all varieties. A number of well-known Indianapolis women have been at great expense to adorn their carriages to take part ir this parade. The Light Artillery Company-Battery A- has had one of its cannons and caissons decorated with 6,000 American Beauty roses for the floral parade. The pageant will arrive at the corner of Sixteenth and Meridian streets at 1:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and move promptly at 2 o'clock south on Meridian to North, east on North street to East street, south on East street to Washington, west n Washington to Capitol avenue, countermarching on the south side of Washington street to Pennsylvania street, north on Pennsylvania to Vermont, east on Vermont to Delaware, north on Delaware to North street, where it will "break ranks" The allegorical or float parade, illustrating some interesting points in Indiana's history, will form on West Washington

The offering of nine handsome prizes for unique features in the grotesque parade will, it is anticipated, bring out some highly entertaining things. The officials at the police station, Fire Inspector Goodloe, "Jap" Clemens, Richard Cooper, Steve Balz, Harry Meikel, E. E. Lowe and the employes of the T. B. Laycock Manufacturing Company are all preparing surprises to spring on the people Friday afternoon. In the industrial parade Wednesday. night the Indianapolis Brewing Company will display two illuminated floats that will create considerable admiration, according to the expectations of the design-

Among the beautiful designs which will be shown in the floral parade Wednesday afternoon will be those of Mrs. William E. English, Mrs. J. G. Voss, Mrs. Albert Lieber, Mrs. H. T. Hearsey's daughters, Miss Adelaide Goetz, Miss Aida Fry, Mrs. Edwin Barton Pugh and Miss Margaret

WORKING ON BOOTHS. Workmen were busily engaged all day vesterday and far into the night last night arranging the booths in Magic Circle. A number of local firms will have wares on sale in the inclosure, there will also be a variety of exhibitions and several churches will have eating stands.

All in all, Indianapolis is expected to create a great sensation among the large cities of the country this week. Such elaborate and tasteful decorations have never been seen in this city before as are now displayed on all the main thoroughfares. Arrange-ments have been perfected by which bands of music are to accompany each parada and the week will truly be one of music, galety and joy. Last night for five minutes the electric lights on the monument were turned on, and the effect was one of great beauty.

Woodmen in the Parade. All members of the Order of Modern Woodmen of America, who desire to take part in the reception of Tecumseh, at the Statehouse to-morrow will met at the corner of Senate avenue and New York street to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock promptly. The Foresters will wear their uniforms. A class of 400 will be adopted Tuesday night at Masonic Temple. The Woodmen will meet at Shover's Hall, and march thence in a body to the Temple. The committee, consisting of Ira K. Thayer, A. J. Bosworth and E. H. Ely, direct that all Woodmen carry axes in the parade.

Business Meeting To-Day.

The carnival executive committee hold an important business meeting at the Commercial Club this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Final details of the carnival will be arranged and the question of finance will be discussed. The management is not a little worried over the lack of interest displayed by some of the local business houses, but it is anticipated that the advantage of the event will soon be appre-ciated, resulting in further subscriptions being made promptly.

Monument Place Thronged.

The city's inhabitants and all the visitors vesterday took advantage of the last opportunity to wander at will through the inclosure of the Magic Circle and the place was alive with people throughout the day and until late at night. The preparations for receiving the many attractions to be placed in the Circle were viewed with interest and the handsome decorations were

The gas company says the department was notified that gas would be turned off several weeks ago. The cause was a failure of the city to sign a contract acceptable to the company. Last winter a deduction was made from the gas company's bill for fuel bought when gas was short. The company objected and notified the city that it would not furnish the engine houses or schoolhouses gas under such conditions. Promptly on the 1st of the month, when the contract expired, the gas was turned off at the schoolhouses, but a supply of coal was on hand and no inconvenience was ex-

Negotiations were opened between the city and the company some time ago to furnish the engine houses with gas this winter, the company promising to supply fuel providing the former deduction was these negotiations were still pending when the gas was turned off yesterday. He said he presumed the company had taken this method of letting the city know that it did not want to supply gas under a contract similar to the one enforced last winter.

HE IS THE SON OF A MERCHANT OF THE VILLAGE.

The People of Acton Were Much Excited Over the Affray-Alkern's Condition.

A shooting affray about 2 o'clock yesterday morning at Acton caused great excitement in that village all of yesterday, and resulted in the arrest of Jenks Swails twenty-three years of age, on a charge of shooting Fleming Alkern with intent to Alkern, the father of four children, lay at his home in Acton all day, and his physicians said there was no hope for his recovery. He was shot in the left side, just below the heart, and the bullet, it was thought, penetrated the intestines.

The shooting was the result of an argu ment over a game of cards in progress during the night in a box car on the Big Four sidetrack. Swails, Alkern, Liva Toon, William Stewart and Lee Weaver procured

Sheriff Clark was advised of the shooting, and yesterday afternoon, in company with Prosecutor Pugh, drove to Acton to invesment: "I, Fleming Alkern, realizing that proaching death, do make this, a tru statement of the facts and circumstances leading up to and attending the trouble between me and Jenks Swails. I left my work at the Poundry woods about 12:30 or 1 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 6, on account of the rain, and drove home about 3 or 4 o'clock. After supper I met Jenks Swails, Yancy Stacks, Liva Toon, William Stewart and Lee Weaver. We all purchased a small keg of beer and carried it over to a box car near by, where we engaged in a game of seven-up. Jenks Swails and I were playing each other. Jenks and I got into an argument about the game. He had been fussing and cursing all evening. We had a dispute over the play that was made. I told him what card I had played, and he jumped up off the floor, where we were playing, and called me a --- liar. I immediately jumped up and made a motion as though I was going to strike him with my fist when he pulled out his revolver and fired at me, striking me in the breast. I did not have anything in my hand at the time. did not have any weapon of any kind with me except a small penknife, and I made no effort to get it from my pocket or use it in any way.' The statement of Swails, corroborated by Toon and Stewart, was that Alkern was known about the village as a braggart anda bully, and that when the argument arose Alkern jumped from the floor of the box car and forced Swails into a corner, threatening to cut him with a knife. Swails said he shot at Alkern in self-defense.

After the shooting Swalls left the box car and summoned a physician, who examined Alkern on the ground near the box car, and then sent him home. Swails is the son of George S. Swails, a grocer at Acton. He made no attempt to eave the village, and was sitting in front of the store talking of the shooting when Sheriff Clark approached him. He was arrested in this city several months ago for the alleged theft of a pocketbook from a young woman with whom he frequented a peer garden on East Washington street. At that time he was considered by the police as "not bright." The shooting caused great excitement in the village, and but few who lived there stayed at home during the day, most of them crowding about in front of the Alkern home and in front of the Swails store.

INFLUENZA IN ANIMALS.

Symptoms by Which the Coming of the Disease May Be Recognized.

"For the past few months," said Prof. A. W. Bitting, veterinarian of the agricultural experiment station at Purdue University, "a disease has been prevalent among cattle and sheep that for the want made good. City Controller Johnson says of a better name or more accurate term has been called influenza. How widely distributed or how prevalent the disease may be has not been ascertained. Bishop Grant, of the A. M. E. STRICKEN IN THE PULPI

REV. J. H. FORD HAS A STROKE O PARALYSIS AT GREENWOOD.

In the Midst of His Sermon Words Failed Him-Brought to His Home Here.

Rev. J. H. Ford, a Methodist minister, living at 1052 West New York street, was stricken with paralysis while speaking in the pulpit at Greenwood yesterday morning. He left home apparently well yesterday morning, and before the services began, talked with members of the congregation, appearing to be as well as usual. He plunged into his sermon with unusual fervor and his deep earnestness at once began to show that the audience was moved. Scarcely had he talked ten minutes when he paused, made an effort as if to speak but his words failed. He tried several times, but could not make a sound.

Motionless he stood before his congra-gation, and his hearers began to look at him in wonderment. Some of those nearest him thought he was ill and approached him. He could not speak or let them know what was the matter. They seated him in a chair in the pulpit, and after resting a few minutes he again tried to finish his sermen, but failed. Then he rapidly became worse and was taken to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Guthrie, paster of the church. His condition was serious, but he did not cose consciousness, although unable to ict his wants be known. Mrs. Ford was at home, and when it was seen the attack was serious, she was sent for. The stricken minister was brought home on a Greenwood car at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and taken to his home. Last night he had improved and it was thought would recover.

Rev. Ford is not the regular pastor at Greenwood, but has been filling the pulpit for the pastor, Rev. Guthrie, who is ill with typhoid fever. Rev. Ford was pastor of Central-avenue M. E. Church ten years ago, but has since preached at Madisor and New Albany, retiring from the pulpit a year ago last July on account of his health. He came back to this city the following September, and has since lived here. During the past year he has been recuperating and hoped to be able to take a permanent charge at the next meeting of the conference.
